VOTERS OF EL PASO HAVE THEIR OFFICERS SELECTED FOR THEM

all that the people have to do is to vote the ticket—if they will.

The meeting last night was held in the offices of county assessor George Hoffman.

Ike Taken Into Camp.

Now comes the nub of the political battle. The opposition organization has taken Ike and his brother, Frank, into the bosom of that harmonious family and he will run for district clerk on a new ticket which is to be announced complete and with every office filled, the ringmasters of the anti-ring ticket say. Just who these counter pawns will be has not been announced. It is for this purpose that a meeting is to be held in the office of Victor Moore, attorney and anti-ring advocate, at 7:30 tonight. Ike is to have a place on the ticket. That is sure, for his strength with the Mexican element has not been lost sight of in the confusion of the new political shuffle and deal. Tom Lee, former recorder until his place was wanted for A. Pool, is in with the opposition. Tom remembers when he got the knife from the ring. Victor Moore refused to back his master's voice many, many months in the dim past and is off the reservation with both his big feet. Victor being some big himself. Despite personal announcements to the contrary, the old Morehead crowd is to play a part in the coming campaign, according to all the hunches; at least the opposition expects it, and judging from the talk, has good reason to expect it.

That Ring Meeting.

A. Pool, the Mercury of the political organization, notified the select few—selections made by Kelly—that there would be a meeting at George Hoffman's office last night. This followed a personal, heart-to-heart conference which mayor Kelly is said to have had with Ike Alderete several days before, during which the mayor asked Ike as a friend and fellow townsman to please withdraw from the race for the district clerkship.

Ike flatly refused.

So sharp, the notice for the gathering of the clan was forthwith drawn up and given to Pool to A. D. T. to the faithful who were known to be faithful.

Those Who Picked It Up.

Those present were: Mayor C. E. Kelly, Jim Conklin (Kelly's man Thursday), R. E. Burgess, candidate for the state legislature; Joe Dunne, ex-officio mayor of East El Paso, and recipient candidate for the district clerkship; all the steam roller struck him, but still loyal; Park Pittman, perpetual county clerk by the statute of limitation; Jim Clifford, county commissioner; Judge J. R. Harper, district judge; and it is hoped to be; Doc. J. P. Brady, city chairman and paying layer;

HUDSPETH TO ENTER CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Says He Will Not Seek Re-election as State Senator Next Time

State senator Claude B. Hudspeth will be a candidate for congress from this district at the next election. He will not be a candidate for re-election or reelection to the position of state senator two years from this fall, when his time as senator expires.

This was officially announced by the state senator Thursday, after his resignation to the state senate, which was a conference with governor Colquitt regarding the political and international situation.

"I have two more years to serve in my present position," senator Hudspeth said. "I will not be a candidate for reelection to the state senate. I will be a candidate for congress at the next election."

"It is being rumored that the state senator is not on the best of terms with the organization because of his friendship for former mayor J. U. Sweeney. Sweeney is at odds with the ring and the failure of the meeting of the mystic 16 Wednesday night to endorse him for any office is regarded as significant. Hudspeth has had congressional aspirations for several years and he is going to give any opposition that might develop a rough and tumble fight for the place. He is also a close personal and political friend of governor Colquitt, which would add strength to his candidacy.

IT was originally planned that the prizes given in the Drawing Contest should be awarded by Popular Vote. We find, however, that owing to lack of room, we cannot display all of the drawings entered, in such manner as to give all contestants an equal show, and have decided to award the prizes on the merit of the drawing. A committee of judges will be selected who will award the prizes. More than two thousand drawings have been entered, many of them cleverly executed.
